WHO WILL FOLLOW THIS NOTICE: This notice describes the information privacy practices followed by South Tabor Family Physicians LLP's providers and employees.

YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION: This notice applies to the information and records we have about your health, health status, and the health care services you receive at this office. Your health information may include information created and received by this office, may be in the form of written or electronic records or spoken words, and may include information about your health history, health status, symptoms, examinations, test results, diagnoses, treatments, procedures, medications, related billing activity and similar types of health-related information.

We are required by law to maintain the privacy of protected health information (or PHI), to give you this notice and to notify affected individuals following a breach (or unintentional disclosure) of unsecured protected health information. It explains how we may use and disclose health information about you and describes your rights and our obligations regarding the use and disclosure of the information.

Breach Notification Obligations: If there is a breach of your unsecured protected health information, we are required by law to notify you promptly. This notification will include a description of the breach, the types of information involved, recommended steps you can take to protect yourself, what we are doing in response, and contact information for further questions.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU:

The following categories describe different ways that we use and disclose protected health information.

FOR TREATMENT: We may use information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose health information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, office staff or other personnel who are involved in taking care of you and your health. Protected health information that is disclosed to another provider for treatment purposes or when a physician requests information from another provider for treatment purposes does not apply to the minimum necessary standard Privacy Rule. Specially protected health information such as psychotherapy notes do require written authorization from you to be disclosed.

For example, your doctor may be treating you for a heart condition and may need to know if you have other health problems that could complicate your treatment. The doctor may use your medical history to decide what treatment is best for you. The doctor may also tell another doctor about your condition so that the doctor can help determine the most appropriate care for you.

Personnel in our office may disclose information about you to people who do not work in our office to coordinate your care, such as phoning in prescriptions to your pharmacy, ordering or scheduling lab work or radiology procedures. Family members or other health care providers may be part of your medical care outside this office and may require information about you.

FOR PAYMENT: We may use and disclose health information about you so that the treatment and services you receive at this office may be billed and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party.

For example, we may need to give your health plan information about a service you received here so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the service. We may also tell your health plan about treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval, or whether your plan will pay for the treatment.

FOR HEALTH CARE OPERATIONS: We may use and disclose health information about you to ensure that you and our other patients receive quality care.

For example, we may also use health information about all or many of our patients to help us decide what additional services we should offer, how we can become more efficient, or whether certain new treatments or medications are effective.

We may also disclose your health information to health plans that provide your insurance coverage and other health care providers that care for you. Our disclosures of your health information to your health plan and other providers may be used to improve care, reduce cost, coordinate and manage health care services and comply with the law.

APPOINTMENT REMINDERS: We may contact you to remind you of scheduled appointments or the need to arrange follow-up appointments after being seen by our office, hospital or urgent care facility. This may include appointment preparation instructions.

TREATMENT ALTERNATIVES: We may tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.

HEALTH - RELATED PRODUCTS AND SERVICES: We may tell you about health-related products or services that may be of interest to you. Please notify us if you do not wish to be contacted for appointment reminders or if you do not wish to receive communications about treatment alternatives or health-related products and services. Please send your written request to the Privacy Office at the address listed on this notice.

SPECIAL PROTECTION FOR SUBSTANCE USE DISORDER (SUD) RECORDS.

We may receive or maintain substance use disorder (SUD) information through screenings (including SBIRT), referrals, care coordination, integrated behavioral health services, or records received from other providers. Certain SUD records are subject to heightened protections under federal law, including 42 C.F.R. Part 2.

1. Use and Disclosure of SUD Records

SUD records may be used or disclosed for treatment, payment, and health care operations consistent with your consent and applicable law. However, SUD records generally may not be used or disclosed in civil, criminal, administrative, or legislative proceedings against you without your written consent or a court order that meets the requirements of 42 C.F.R. Part 2.

2. Redisclosure Prohibition

Recipients of SUD records are prohibited from redisclosing those records unless permitted by law. Federal law restricts the use of SUD records to investigate or prosecute you without appropriate authorization or court approval.

3. More Restrictive Laws

If federal or state law (including Oregon law) provides greater privacy protections for SUD records than HIPAA, we will follow the more restrictive law.

4. Fundraising Communications Involving SUD Information

If we use or disclose any information, including SUD-related information, for fundraising purposes, you have the right to opt out of receiving such communications at any time. Your decision will not affect your treatment or payment.

YOUR CHOICES: For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share. If you have a preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, please contact our Privacy Officer and we will make reasonable efforts to follow your instructions.

For example, you have both the right and choice to tell us whether to: share information such as your PHI, general condition, or location with your family, close friends, or others involved in your care; and share information in a disaster relief situation, such as to a relief organization to assist with locating or notifying your family, close friends or others involved in your care.

Family and Friends: We may disclose health information about you to your family members or friends when they are in your immediate presence. If we obtain your verbal agreement to do so or if we give you an opportunity to object to such a disclosure and you do not raise an objection. We may also disclose health information to your family or friends if we can infer from the circumstances, based on our professional judgment that you would not object. For example, we may assume you agree to our disclosure of your personal health information to your spouse when you bring your spouse with you into the exam room during treatment or while treatment is discussed.

In situations where you are not capable of giving consent (because you are not present or due to your incapacity or medical emergency), we may, using our professional judgment, determine that a disclosure to your family member or friend is in your best interest. In that situation, we will disclose only health information relevant to the person's involvement in your care.

For example, we may also use our professional judgment and experience to make reasonable inferences that it is in your best interest to allow another person to act on your behalf to pick up, for example, written prescriptions or samples, medical supplies, x-rays.

OTHER USES AND DISCLOSURES OF HEALTH INFORMATION: We will not use or disclose your health information for any purpose other than those identified in the previous sections without your specific, written authorization. If you give us authorization to use or disclose health information about you, you may revoke that authorization, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose information about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization, but we cannot take back any uses or disclosures already made with your permission.

In some instances, we may need specific, written authorization from you in order to disclose certain types of specially-protected information such as HIV, substance abuse, mental health, psychotherapy notes and genetic testing information. For example: The prohibition on the sale of protected health information without your expressed written authorization.
